

FOR PRESIDENT, IN
MAJOR GENERAL
ZACHARY TAYLOR,
OF LOUISIANA,
THE HERO
OF PAJO ALTO, RESACA DE LA PALMA,
MONTEREY,
And Buena Vista.

Subject to the decision of the Whig National Convention.

Mr. T. M. Kimber, is no longer an Agent for the National Whig.

NOTICE.—Persons indebted to the National Whig for advertisements, are respectfully requested to make payment either to the Proprietor in person, or to Mr. G. L. Gilchrist, who is our sole Agent, and whose receipts alone will be recognized by us as valid.

Mr. Grund, the able Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun speaks of the nascent Hero of the war. We should like to know where he will find full grown ones if they are only nascent! Why does not Mr. Polk give him that commission?

The Washington Union says that whatever is calculated to injure the President must injure the country. We do not think, says Prentice, that our country would suffer any more just now from an injury to the name of James K. Polk than Santa Ana would from a wound inflicted on his wooden leg.

37—Last CONGRUUM—please send answer.

37—"There goes another nail in Polk's coffin!"—was the bye-word at Buena Vista when a Mexican was seen to fall.

37—Old Zach has been nominated by people of both parties at Mecklenburg Court House, Va. for the Presidency. What do you think of that Mr. Ritchie?

The Agent of the Jackson Monument Association meets with no encouragement in New Orleans. What is the matter?

Gen. Houston was present at the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto lately and enjoyed it greatly. We have no doubt he enjoyed it vastly more than he did the battle itself!

37—Last Sunday was a day to be remembered in Patterson, N. J. Two fires broke out and burnt property to the value of near $75,000—one man tried to kill another—and another man tried to hang himself!

37—The two Anti-Rent Whig nominees for Judges of the Court of Appeals in New York have declined.

It has been trying to rain in all the Eastern cities for the last few weeks, as well as in the District.

Six tons of hemp have been taken by the government from Louisville. They mean to have rope enough.—Louisville Journal.

To hang themselves.

Pillow's Brigade was the only one repulsed at Cerro Gordo.

Mr. Flournoy, w. will contest the election of his opponent, who, it seems, is elected by one majority, and not 55, as last reported.

37—The Tallahassee, Fla. people have given the starving Irish $900. They will have their reward.

The new Ocean Steamship Washington made a trial up at New York the other day and worked wonders—in the bay. She ought to burn Cumberland coal. It is the best she can get in the world.

The madman Cresson, who has been cutting up such capers in Jerusalem, is a real United States Consul. He is not more mad than the rest of Mr. Polk's consuls abroad!

They ate 4000 bushels of strawberries at Cincinnati last year!

The Chinese authorities have bestowed great favor upon the Missionaries at Amoy, in public, and thousands now confess their faith in Christ—no longer being deterred by those above them.

The Tory Inquirer at Richmond ridicules the DREAM we published a day or two ago about Gen. Taylor. Go on, Gentlemen, a change will come over your dream before many days!

A stampede of negro slaves took place at Maysville, Ky., a few days ago. They are gone to help to people the wilds of Ohio and Canada.

It has been said here, on authority, that Mr. Clay has not given any direct and positive countenance to the proposed selection of Gen. Taylor, as the Whig candidate for the next Presidency. [N. Y. Com. Adv.]

That's not Whig authority—that's certain.

The President, it is said, has adopted Col. Yell's son. Who will adopt the thousands of other children made orphans by the President's war? There is no father for them—but He who is in heaven. May he temper the wind to the shorn lamb.

The New York Courier and Enquirer is savage against two of the nominees for appeal judges on the Whig ticket, because they are Anti-Reuters. He goes against them and runs an independent ticket of 2 Whigs and 2 Democrats—taken from the nominated tickets.

To the Editor of the National Whig:

Sir: Mr. Benton, in his late speech at St. Louis, speaking of thecession of Texas to Spain, and complaining bitterly of thus "giving it away," says:—"Mr. Adams had opposed that article of the treaty at the council table when the majority of Mr. Monroe's cabinet adopted it. But this was not known to him (Mr. B.) until long afterwards."

And a little further on he again says:—"Mr. Adams at the council table voted against the article which gave Texas away; Mr. Clay in the House of Representatives denounced the cession. They made the first effort to get it back," &c.

Now it is well known that Mr. Adams has been denounced throughout the whole South for "giving Texas away" with corrupt intent. The Richmond Enquirer, true to its instinct of hatred to Mr. Adams, and to subvert certain purposes in regard to Texas, was the main source of the slander. Corrupt and sectional in all its aims and feelings, it could not tolerate the idea that patriotism, embracing a regard for the whole country, and political honesty, reigned in any bosom.

We have the very best authority, the word of Mr. Adams, that the charge is false. Mr. Benton admits it. But will the Richmond Enquirer retract it? Never. Will the author of the blustering, incoherent jargon, published to the Virginia public in the Enquirer, under the name of "RANDOMER or RANDOMER," who brought forward the charge and revamped and presented it in the most odious light—will he withdraw it? Will he now come forward and honestly confess, that he made use of the charge recklessly and audaciously, to subvert certain ends; and that he cared not whether it was true or false, so that it answered the purpose? I merely ask for information. For one, I do not like to be represented abroad by a person who could find it in his heart to be guilty of such gross injustice. But will he retract the charge? My word for it—never! He does not belong to that school.

The way the Mexican war may be brought to an end.

MARRIED.—At Mier, Mexico, on the 25th ult. Mr. Jack F. Everett, lately of Mobile, to Miss Antoniette Garces, of the former place.

The Legislature of Connecticut has rejected a proposed amendment to the State Constitution striking the word "white" out of that instrument, so as to place negroes and whites on the same footing in regard to suffrage. The vote stood 124 to 60—two-thirds being required. Negrophilia is not yet in the majority in this tight little State.

37—The editor of the New Orleans Mercury says he should like to know "how much gall a chemist would be able to extract from two such Whig papers as the Louisville Journal and the Philadelphia North American." Prentice would like to know how many wooden nutmegs a Yankee peddler would be able to make out of Mr. Polk's head and Santa Ana's leg.

37—The President and one or two of his Cabinet ministers are to leave Washington on the 28th of the present month for North Carolina. During the Administration of John Q. Adams, three used to be a great deal said about "traveling Cabinets," but we presume nobody objects now to letting Mr. Polk and his Cabinet travel as much as they please. For our own part, says Prentice, we hope they may travel so far from the Capital as never to find their way back again! There is not a man in Washington who would not rejoice if such could only be the case.

Benton's Last Cord. The St. Louis Union contains a rich card from Mr. Benton, denying that he ever intrigued to get Col. Fremont placed in command over General Kearny, as stated by Mr. Grund the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger and the Baltimore Sun. Of Mr. Grund he holds the following language, which hits Mr. Buchanan over Grund's shoulders, for Grund is his intimate.

I do not publish it to contradict the Washington letter-writer, nor do I object to his including my two sons-in-law in his old and daily work against me; but I think that a writer who assumes to be semi-official, and to have a knowledge of unpublished despatches, and who is certainly courant, courant, levant about the departments, ought to have more respect for the President than to make him, my instrument, and subject to my influence, in an intrigue to put Brigadier General Kearny under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Fremont.

THOMAS H. BENTON.

St. Louis, May 14, 1847.

"Eating, lying down, and getting up."

37—The blood of hundreds of valuable American citizens, very truly says one of our officers writing from Jalapa, justly rests upon the hands of Mr. Polk for his short-sighted act in permitting the return of Santa Ana, and for its shedding, he will be held responsible both here and hereafter.

37—Gen. Pillow, says a Jalapa correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, notwithstanding all his efforts to become the "big toad in the puddle," is the only one that retires ingloriously from the field. The Tennessee, and one of the Pennsylvania Regiments, denounce him in unmeasured terms for his course in the futile efforts to storm one of the strong works of the enemy, leaving Col. Haskell, who made the advance with but three hundred men, wholly unprotected and unsupported in the charge.

Mr. Polk, says Prentice, intends making a visit to North Carolina in June. In doing this he will be imposing an exceedingly disagreeable task upon the true hearted men of North Carolina. Lest they might subject themselves to the imputation of treating with inhospitality and neglect the President of the United States, they will be under the revolting necessity of rendering seeming honors to James K. Polk.

The mortality among our troops at Santa Fe, in New Mexico, has been very great. Upwards of three hundred of them have fallen victims to the disease of the climate.

THE MORMONS. HIGHLY INTERESTING.

As the public are already aware, (says the St. Louis Republican), the head quarters of this sect, for some time past, have been at the camp of the "Twelve," near Council Bluffs, west of the Missouri river, in the Indian territory. In this locality about four thousand remained during the past winter; while the remainder of those who left Illinois, and who did not disperse over the country, amounting to some ten or twelve thousand, are scattered along in a due westline from Nauvoo to the Missouri river—principally in settlements upon the head waters of Grand river, the Little Platte, and the streams of the Ishnabotany, in the territory lately ceded to the United States by the Pottawatomies. The main body of them are about forty miles east of the Bluffs, which being well timbered, enabled them to prepare for the rigors of the past winter. It is the intention of the whole of them to gather at the Bluffs as fast as they can, with the bona fide design of removing to California—as many crossing the mountains each season as can possibly be prepared for the journey.

Last year they founded two principal stoppings in Iowa, immediately west of the county of Appanoose, where large numbers of them congregated who had no means of proceeding further. At each of these places (known as Garden Grove and Mount Pisgah) they put in crops. Those who occupied these points last season are to remove one stage further west this spring—perhaps to the Bluffs—and their improvements are to be taken possession of by the remnant who left Illinois late last fall, and have been scattered in the frontier settlements of Missouri and Iowa. They intend farming largely at the Bluffs this season, in order to fit out a large number to emigrate to California next spring.

In April last, the leaders of the church, together with a pioneer corps of three hundred men, well provided with seeds and utensils for farming, started for the Pacific. Their intention is to proceed as far as possible, up to the period of necessary planting time, when they will stop and commence a crop. The leaders will make but a short delay at this point, and will proceed over into California, and communicate with or join the disbanded forces of the "Mormon Battalion," whose period of service will expire on the first of July next. With these they will select a locality as a focus for immigration, and make such provision for the arrival of their friends as may seem to them best under the circumstances.

The pioneers which left the Bluffs were expected to cross the mountains and reach Bear river valley in time to plant. In this they think they will be disappointed, unless they proceed with greater celerity than we suppose them capable to perform. The whole of that region is too sterile for cultivation, with the exception of a small valley within about twenty miles of the mouth of Bear river, where it empties into Salt Lake, known by trappers as Cache valley, where they usually wintered when trapping was pursued in that vicinity. We think this point too remote to reach in time for planting this season.

About the first of next month between one and two hundred families, carrying with them eighteen months' outfit, of provisions, &c., with a train of over four hundred wagons, will start to cross the mountains—some to overtake and remain with the pioneers, and others to proceed to the end of their journey, as they may severally be able. They will send at least one thousand souls west of the mountains this season, destined to centre in California. These, with some hundreds who have reached there by sea, together with near five hundred of their "Battalion," will, within a few months, make them quite an integral portion of the limited population of California. Not more than three or four years can elapse, if they continue their emigrating system—and they are sure to do that—before these people will be, if not quadruple, the entire present population of that territory. At this time they are making strenuous exertions in England; and from that quarter they have reason to expect, this season, not only considerable pecuniary assistance, but a large number of families. And what will give them a greater preponderance there is, that from their former character, their social and political ascendancy will be degraded, and the tide of every other class of emigration will be diverted to higher latitudes, where there will be no commingling or juxtaposition. That their social and political characteristics will be stamped upon the future condition and history of California we believe to be certain; and we fear in such colors as will not cause the bosom of philanthropy to rejoice, or show a progress in the moral elevation of the present era. Industry they undoubtedly have, and they possess within themselves all the elements to make any community prosperous; but they are imbued with dogmas which deeply affect their social and domestic condition—we fear rumor does not slander them in this. As philanthropists we have a deep faith in the conservative virtues of human nature; and we hope that in their case better and more correct influences may yet prevail in their midst. In whatever light we view them, their intended position will give them an enlarged influence on the Pacific, visible to the world at large, and they are destined to become a people of more or less interest.

NEWS FROM BOSTON.—The New Orleans Picayune says: "In Boston they manage without licenses. When you enter a tavern there, we are told, you must call for 'pickled eel's feet,' and, as if by magic, in comes your hot punch. If you want a cold brandy or gin sling, call for 'horse radish,' and its thar; and if parching for a julep, you must sing with a husky voice the hymn commencing—
'From Greenland's icy mountains, &c.'"

STRIKING COINCIDENCE.—A newspaper out west records as a singular coincidence, that the Mayor of Cincinnati having issued his orders for the destruction by the police of all dogs found in the streets, on one day only of the ensuing week fifteen barrels of Bologna sausages were shipped for the London market.

37—General Leslie Coombs, of Kentucky, is tarrying in Philadelphia.

The St. Louis Republican regards Mr. Polk as a weak and subservient President. He is any thing but that, sir. Ask his Cabinet, ask Mr. Benton, ask any of his party friends, and they will tell you, that he is the most imperious, alread, and for seeing man who has ever sat in the Chair of State. Every man who is employed by him is his tool or he is thrown aside in double quick time.

General Scott, for eight or ten days past, says the Jalapa correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, has been a good deal indisposed, and is much depressed in spirits. His indisposition is occasioned by the chills, that have from time to time visited him during the above period; and his depression of spirits arises from his present apprehensions that he will be unable to make his army a self-sustaining machine.—Another matter that aids in the depression of his spirits, is the disappointment he has experienced in not seeing any probability of a proposition for an armistice being made by Santa Ana—on the contrary, the exercise of all his influence and energies to recuperate his forces for renewed hostilities towards us.

These guerrillas we regard in the same light that our nation views privateers—entitled to none of the privileges of war, and only fit subjects for the halter.

Jalapa Star.

Aye, aye—but would it not be well to catch them first!

37—Mr. Grund, the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, who always speaks by authority, because he is the organ of communication between the Government and the Philadelphia Ledger and Baltimore Sun, informs the public that Major Hobbie, of the General Post Office, is going out to Bremen, in the new ocean steamer Washington, to perfect the Post Office arrangements between Bremen, England, and the United States. This is the most sensible thing that Mr. Polk has done since he mounted the chair he now occupies.

37—In the Raleigh District, North Carolina, the Democracy have four candidates in the field, one of whom, Mr. H. J. Toole, goes for Old Zach for President. The Tories have up J. J. Daniel, late M. C. He goes in for the nominee of a Tory Convention for President. He may go for such a nominee till dooms-day—he will never overtake him, Toole, it is thought, will be returned from this District. So mote it be!

Somebody in the St. Louis Republican, writing a puff of Mr. Fremont, complains that modest merit is so often allowed to languish and pine in neglect and obscurity. The son-in-law of Mr. Benton can never be the victim of such a law of society while his father is his trumpeter.

We are a set of poor fellows, writes an officer from Chihuahua—have no orders from the Government, and do just what strikes us as the most practical. Our troops look worse than the Goths and Vandals, when they marched upon Rome. No wonder—they have as yet not received a cent of money for their pay.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

FARQUHAR'S SODA.—All who would enjoy a refreshing draught of pure soda water should not forget Farquhar. See his advertisement. We pronounce it equal to any in the city. It is gay, sparkling, and lively as Champagne. Just try it, if you have any doubts about it.

BERRY'S BEVERAGES.—They who affect to be connoisseurs in these things are loud in their praises of them. They speak warmly of his Buena Vista and Cerro Gordo. Of a sultry day Berry's saloon is crowded. His skill in the facture of his beverages is pronounced to be unsurpassed.

LOOK HERE, BOYS!—You are all known, you are in the habit of throwing stones, barking the trees on the streets, and pulling the palings off fences. The eye of the police is upon every one of you, and we are requested to give you notice, in this way, that if you are caught again at your wicked tricks, you will all be arrested and be made to suffer the extreme penalty of the law.
